

Journal of Policy History

Call For Papers

The Journal of Policy History and Institute for Political History are hosting their sixth biennial Conference on Policy History at the Hyatt on Capitol Square in Columbus, Ohio from June 3 to June 6, 2010. Program chairs are Paula Baker, Amy Bridges, and David Robertson. We are currently accepting paper proposals on all topics regarding political and policy history; American political development; and comparative historical analysis. We encourage you to submit a complete session, but individual paper proposals are welcome. The editors of the Journal of Policy History encourage conference presenters to submit their papers for possible publication. The deadline for proposals is December 30, 2009.

For questions regarding conference content or program information, please contact David Robertson at daverobertson@umsl.edu, Amy Bridges at abridges@ucsd.edu, or Paula Baker at baker.973@osu.edu. Please direct general inquiries to the conference coordinator, Cynthia Stachecki, at policyhistoryconference@gmail.com.

For information regarding the conference or paper submissions, visit our website: www.slu.edu/departments/jph/conf2010

Call For Applications

Hugh Davis Graham Award

The Institute for Political History, a nonprofit foundation, is pleased to announce that it is accepting applications for the Hugh Davis Graham Award. The purpose of this grant, named in honor of the late Professor Hugh Graham, is to assist scholars undertaking archival research in the fields of Twentieth-Century American Political/Policy History and American Political Development. Applications must be received by November 2, 2009 and the award in the amount of up to $2000 will be announced at the Policy History Conference to be held at the Hyatt on Capitol Square Hotel in Columbus, Ohio from June 3-6, 2010.

For additional information concerning the Institute for Political History, the Hugh Davis Graham Award, and how to submit an application, please visit <http://www.politicalhistory.org/> or e-mail the grant coordinator at grahamaward@gmail.com.

Thomas H. Critchlow Award

The Institute for Political History, a nonprofit foundation, is pleased to announce that it is accepting applications for the Thomas H. Critchlow Award. The purpose of this grant, named in honor of the Institute benefactor, is to assist scholars undertaking archival research in the fields of Pre-Twentieth-Century American Political/Policy History and American Political Development. Applications must be received by November 2, 2009 and the award in the amount of up to $1000 will be announced at the Policy History Conference to be held at the Hyatt on Capitol Square Hotel in Columbus, Ohio from June 3-6, 2010.

For additional information concerning the Institute for Political History, the Thomas Critchlow Award, and how to submit an application, please visit <http://www.politicalhistory.org/> or e-mail the grant coordinator at grahamaward@gmail.com.