

African & African American Studies, Women & Gender Studies, and the Higher Education Programs Present:

The Kitchen Table: Stirring the Pot

An Arts Retreat
Deconstructing: Identity,
Sexuality & Queerness

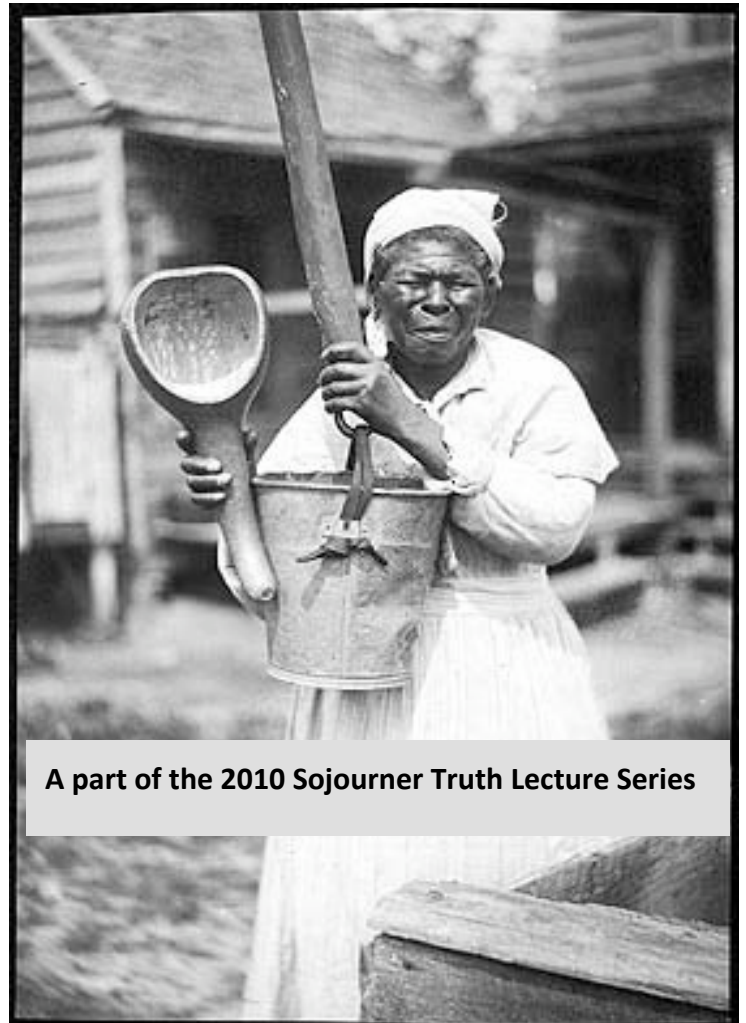

SUNDAY March 21st
1-6 PM

Mason Hall Conference
Room D3

Open to all GMU students, Limited space. Snacks and dinner will be provided.

To sign up please visit:
African & African American Studies Program
Johnson Center 240A

Women & Gender Studies Program
Johnson Center 240K

A part of the 2010 Sojourner Truth Lecture Series

Overview

This one-day retreat will examine and dissect the meanings and symbols associated with identity, sexuality, and queerness. We will explore the various characteristics assigned to women by modern-day society and deconstruct these stereotypes through group discussions, personal reflection, and artistic expression [painting and collage]. We envision self discovery unfolding within the day's planned activities. We hope to open up a kitchen table discussion to define and express a clear depiction of what makes up an identity and to create a dialogue for resistance.

For questions, email Toby Jenkins, tjenkin8@gmu.edu or call 703-993-5243