Spring 2013 Semester Career Fair

The basics

February 20 & 21, 11:00 am – 4:00 pm in the Johnson Center's Dewberry Hall.

Why go?

It comes down to getting valuable networking and job hunting experience, exploring your career options, and possibly meeting your next employer.

What to expect

University Career Services career fairs usually attract nearly 200 employers and thousands of students and alumni. Company representatives may speak to each interested student for under a minute or for several minutes. Attendees can speak to as many employers as they want, and employers may ask for attendees to leave a résumé or a business card.

If you want to prepare

Preparing for a career fair is always a good idea. Career Services offers scheduled appointments and workshops for practice interviews, résumé improvement, career counseling, and more. We have a Prepare for The Fair event on February 12 and 15, Résumé Clinics on February 18 and 19, and Interview Practice Days on February 7 and 13.

Career Services

University Career Services is committed to educating and preparing students for meaningful careers in a global society. We help students develop their careers, help connect students with alumni and employers, develop relationships with local and national employers, and facilitate on-campus career preparation.
