Study Abroad in Ireland

Students interested in a fully integrated study abroad semester at University College Dublin should visit <http://civil.gmu.edu/undergraduate/study-abroad/> and then plan their curriculum to take advantage of approved civil engineering and general education courses creditable toward their BS-CIE.

Environmental Engineering Minor

Effective fall 2014, CEIE will offer a minor in environmental engineering outlined at <http://civil.gmu.edu/undergraduate/minors/>. Three of the required courses are CEIE courses, and three are outside civil engineering, requiring credit hours beyond those required for the BS-CIE. Students graduating in December 2014 or after may begin taking courses for the minor now.
