

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

MASON GRADUATE INTERDISCIPLINARY CONFERENCE

Presented by the Graduate and Professional Student Association

George Mason University | Arlington, VA
Saturday, April 7, 2018
provost.gmu.edu/migc

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

GAPSA invites students to participate in the 2018 Mason Graduate Interdisciplinary Conference on Saturday, April 7, 2018 in Founders Hall at George Mason University's Arlington Campus. This one-day event will showcase graduate student research and scholarly and creative works across disciplines, and also features Mason's Three-Minute Thesis (3MT[®]) competition.

ELIGIBILITY:

Applicants must be current graduate students at George Mason University. Team presentations must include at least one current Mason graduate student.

SUBMISSION:

An abstract (250 words maximum) for poster or presentation should be submitted electronically (provost.gmu.edu/migc) no later than

Thursday, February 22, 2018 at 5:00 PM

Mason's Graduate and Professional Student Association (GAPSA) recognizes that enriching graduate student life at George Mason University benefits both Mason students and the university community. By creating a better environment for graduate students, Mason can improve graduate student recruitment and retention. Our goal is to promote academic and social opportunities for all graduate and professional students, thereby enriching the Mason graduate experience.

Follow Us!

gapsa.gmu.edu
facebook.com/MasonGAPSA
@MasonGradScene

Questions? Please email us at gapsa@gmu.edu